College in Baltimore, Maryland, to study for the priesthood, under the Paulist Father's order. They are William J. Sullivan, 17, the son of Police Inspector and Mrs. Edward A. Sullivan, of 15 Medford st., Arlington, and Henry C. Lahey, Jr., 16 the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Lahey, of 90 Cutter Hill road. The youths will take a two year course at the College, after which they plan to attend the novitate at Oak Ridge, N J., for seven year course, in preparation for the priesthood.

Woman Falls From Truck

Mrs. Elva Haas, 29, of 1246 Concord avenue, Framingham, had a narrow escape from instant death on Tuesday, when the door of a truck in which she was riding as a passenger along Medford St., near Mount Pleasant cemetery, Arlington, suddenly opened, and precipitated her to the pavement without warning.

Thomas B. Haas, her husband, who was operating the truck, hailed a passing motorist, who in turn notified the police, and Mrs. Haas was driven in the police ambulance to the Symmes Arlington hospital, where after examination she was found to be suffering from injuries about the head and face.

FINE DISPLAY OF SHELLCRAFT AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The shellcraft on display at the Robbins Library is the work of Mr. William B. Fleming of 306 Appleton St.

Mr. Fleming was employed by Gillette Razor Company as a carpenter until his retirement last year, and since that time has developed his hobby into a full time business.

The display comprising 45 items made from sea shells and 4 articles made from peanuts, many of them original designs, is a graphic illustration as to what can be accomplished with the products of nature and the application of ingenuity and imagination.

Three Residents Receive Annuities

Among the five men and one woman, representing the first group of Metropolitan Transit Authority employees, to become eligible to pensions, under the new contributory system of pensions, and who were the recipients of certificates of annuities recently in a brief ceremony held at the MTA headquarters in the Park square building, in Boston, were three Arlington residents: Patrick J. Quinlivan, of 62 Winter Street, with 41 years and four months service; Philip J. Lynch, of 16 Exeter Street, forty year's service and Daniel M. Shea, of 33 Coleman road, with thirty-seven year's and 11 months of service to his credit. All are charter members of the Carmen's union, division 589.

Previous to the ceremony giving the members of the group their certificates, the chairman of the retirement board of the MTA, Harold D. Ulrich, addressed the group, expressing congratulations to the retiring employees, on their long and faithful terms of service, and extending the best wishes of the board for their continued health and happiness in the years ahead.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stein of Laurel Street, Arlington, were among those delegated to attend the special lecture on Civil Liberties given last Sunday evening at the Academie Moderne in Boston by Attorney Alfred A. Albert, counsel for the Civil Liberties Union of Mass.

Mr. Albert, who has long been noted for his work in defense of the rights of minority groups, will be remembered for his work in connection with the "Strange Fruit" case, as well as his association as counsel for more than 250 conscientious objectors who appeared in federal courts.

Sounding a note of warning that the lackadaisical attitude on the part of the voting public could be a sixth column in this country, Mr. Albert urged his listeners to keep a sharp watch for legislation being introduced in federal and state legislative bodies with the purpose of undermining the civil liberties of the American people.

Attorney Albert's talk, held under the auspices of the Mary Epstein Family Associates, Inc., was attended by a capacity audience. A discussion period, followed by the serving of refreshments, concluded an enjoyable evening.

Arlington Woman Testifies As Witness In Harvard Bank Trial; Defendants Are Identified

Red Feather Girl Contest Next Week

Competition to select the Red Feather Girl of 1948 from Arlington to preside at functions of the Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign will be inaugurated next week. Public Relations Chairman for Arlington, Henry E. Keenan, attended the Community Fund Metropolitan Chairmen's Dinner, Tuesday evening, at the Harvard Club in Boston. The rules and regulations will be published next week, as soon as Chairman Keenan receives them from Boston. The contest will be similar to the one held last year, in which some 1,500 girls from Greater Boston participated. Representatives from Arlington at the dinner were: Mrs. Shattuck W. Osborne, Speakers Bureau Chairman; Mr. Paul Power, Residential Chairman; Mr. William Clancy; and Henry Keenan, Public Relations Chairman. Plans are well under way for the Drive. Residential Chairman, Paul Power, needs more workers to assist in the Community Fund Sunday Collection, October 31st. It is the desire of the Chairman to clean up the Drive in workers assigned to visit only ten one day. Therefore, with sufficient people, the task can be accomplished.

Miss Lorenzen Enters College

Miss Mary Lorenzen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Lorenzen, Jr., of 111 Palmer street, is entering her freshman year at Framingham State college. She is enrolled in the household arts department.

"I saw a black sedan racing down Church street, out into Massachusetts Avenue, at Church St., at the time of the holdup. The driver at one time appeared to lose control of the car." So testified Mrs. Adell Johnson, of 16 Draper Avenue, Arlington, testifying as a witness in the trial of the suspects in the Harvard Cooperative case, at Middlesex Superior Court on Tuesday.

Mrs. Adell followed several witnesses on the stand, who testified that they recognized one of the defendants as being present at the holdup.

She further stated that she was in her automobile parked on Massachusetts Avenue, at Church St., at the time. When asked if she could identify the driver, she pointed out Lewis, one of the defendants, stating that he looked like the driver.

Following a clash between one of the defendants Nicholas M. Mavrides, and his attorney, Chester A. Higley, during which argument the defendant stated that the attorney had made promises of a lighter sentence if the former confessed to his part in the hold-up, which statement was refuted by the attorney, who also said that he had attempted in every way to cooperate with the police and authorities.

"I did not tell him that he would get off with an easy sentence," added the attorney.

In spite of the fact of the clash in open court, Attorney Higley was representing Mavrides in the afternoon session, the former stating that his client had requested him to continue to represent him.

The case was resumed Wednesday morning.

Original, And Good

We like the rather remarkable idea being carried out in a western town, where instead of giving motorists tickets for over-parking the cops put nickels in the meters—and then leave a card on the windshield. The card tells the autoist, in effect: "The meter's red flag was up. You were saved from a fine by courtesy of the police. Please be careful in the future."

There is no compunction upon the motorist to return the nickel, but many of them gladly go to the station and pay a quarter, a half dollar or a dollar.

We can well imagine how such an idea can build a tremendous amount of good will and friendship.

Who'll Take The Lead?

The suggestion recently advanced in these columns that some organization might well undertake construction for a building suitable for use by clubs, lodges and societies meets with the hearty endorsement of one reader, whose letter of comment in published elsewhere in this issue.

As we pointed out, and as this reader reiterates, there is in Arlington a real need for a community building including assembly, banquet and meeting rooms. Many organizations would gratefully make use of such conveniences, and glad to pay for the privilege.

Let us hope that the idea will come to the attention of some organization—or some group of organizations—financially in a position to do something about it.

Salvation Army
Funds Used For Many Purposes

Thirty-one institutions and neighborhood centers are dependent on the success of the Salvation Army's 1948-49 Greater Boston Appeal for $500,000, officials of the Army pointed out this week.

The humanitarian and social service work of the Salvation Army in Greater Boston includes the South End Boys' financed entirely by the Salvation Army.

Other institutions partially supported by the appeal are the Booth Memorial Hospital, the Booth Memorial Home for unwed mothers, the Boston Day Nursery, Wonderland camp, the Family Service Bureau, which gives aid to needy families; the prison department which helps rehabilitate law breakers, the League of Mercy which provides for the sick and hospitalized veterans and the aged, and the emergency fire truck which provides hot coffee for fire-fighters.

Part of the money contributed in the cities and towns participating in the appeal remains in those towns for administration by local citizens for community needs such as food, clothing and children's eye examinations.

Red Feather
Leaders Due
To Confer

The annual get-together dinner for community and division chairman, as a preliminary to the 1949 Community Fund appeal, will be held next Tuesday, Sept. 21, at the Harvard Club in Boston.

John L. Fagerland, community chairman for Arlington, Paul J. Power, Henry E. Keenan, Edmund Frost and other local campaign leaders will be among those attending the dinner.

Enrollment of 30,000 volunteers for the Greater Boston Red Feather drive is now being completed by the 48 participating committees.

At Tuesday's dinner Congressman Christian A. Herter, longtime friend of the Community Fund and now an international figure, will be the key speaker.

Enrollment of volunteers, continuing until Oct. 6, will be followed by local worker information meetings and group visits to see Red Feather services in action. Actual solicitation will be from Oct. 25 to Nov. 19.

Bus Service
For Children
In Arlmont

Children living in Arlmont Village, in the Heights, now have the advantage of special bus service to and from their homes and the Brackett and Locke schools.

The service was inaugurated last week, with the opening of schools, by the Hudson Bus Lines.

The bus leaves the Village at 8:30 a. m. and makes the Appleton St., circuit, taking in the Locke and the Brackett schools. The same bus leaves the Brackett school at 12 noon; it returns at 1, and then brings the children home at 3:30.

While run principally for children, the bus picks up adults also. The fare for children is five cents and for adults a dime.

Catholic Club
Activities

Resuming its fall and winter activities, on Wednesday afternoon the club opened with a garden bridge and whist party held at the home of the past president, Mrs. Henry A. Lydecker, 355 Mystic st., Co-chairmen for the gala event were Mrs. Charles J. O'Brien, and Mrs. John J. Sullivan. Dessert was served at 1:30 o'clock previous to the bridge and whist party. Assisting directors and officers include Mrs. Harold Rogers, Mrs. John Bishop, Mrs. Myles Beaton, Mrs. William Helmar, Thomas Sullivan, and others. The club has planned a most extensive and ambitious series of events to mark the fall and winter season.

Says 'Thanks'

Bob Carmody, member of the Arlington All Stars baseball team who suffered a broken leg in a game several weeks ago, this week took occasion to publicly express his thanks for the benefit game subsequently held to pay his hospital expenses.

In a note to the Press Carmody wrote:
"I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone who contributed and took part in the benefit game that was held for me during my illness. It was a wonderful gesture, and I hope some day to thank all personally."
